Potential Joint Venture of Artvin Project

9 April 2008

KEFI Minerals announces that it has invited selected mining companies to consider an exploration joint venture arrangement in relation to the Company's 100%-owned Artvin Project in northeastern Turkey. Several expressions of interest have been received and five confidentiality agreements have been signed. Should such a joint venture arrangement be entered into it would serve to accelerate exploration on the large (254 km²) Artvin Project area.

The Company will update the market in due course with any further developments.
